Vision Conference

There is a lot that I learned from vision Conference on what it means to be a good leader like Christ and what the goal of BYU-I is on preparing people for their future. It was a great opportunity to meet with fellow students and get to know why each student has the opportunity to learn at BYU-I.

I learned first that BYU-Idaho has a goal of preparing people to be Disciples. Some of the way that this happens is first thought the temple. As we look to the temple we can remember who we are and why we are here at BYU-Idaho. As a result of the temple we prepare harder dress nicer, act a little better, and think more deeply about things that really matter. Second we are protected by the stakes of Zion that surround us. We have been given a place where we can learn and not be influenced by the world. We can study by the spirit in classes and keep the spirit with us all day. Last of all we have great teacher and mentors that we learn from. We have a great opportunity to come to a College that is fairly cheap and are blessed with spiritual knowledge along with regular knowledge.

The second thing that I learned was how to be a good leader like what Christ was. Some of the ways we can become a good leader is first to understand others. We have to love others so that they will want to follow you. Second we talked about being responsible and accountable for our actions. People tend to perform to a standard set by their leader. So it is important to be a responsible and leader by your actions. Last of all it is important to use our time wisely and to develop good attributes that encourage positive actions. We are given a limited amount of time so we need to use it doing the things that mean most to use.
